As rookie actors and actresses, the Class of 1995 approached the set (a.k.a. Westwood High School) with the appropriate combination of anticipation and fear. As freshmen, we were mere extras and were frequently reminded of our inferior position; but we had potential! Sophomore and junior years, we assumed the roles of supporting actors and actresses, making the proper connections and waiting for our big break. Finally, senior year, it was our turn to shine. Now, as graduates armed with the knowledge and wisdom we have gained through our experience at WHS, we are poised for success. The Class of 1995 (like this year's edition of Green Years) is bound to be a blockbuster hit.

GREEN YEARS DEDICATION

YEARBOOK DEDICATION

Every year the members of the senior class dedicate their yearbook to the faculty member who has had the most profound impact on them during their four years at Westwood High School. This year's recipient is an individual who has played a seminal role in our development. He has been chosen not only for his talents and abilities within the classroom but also for his caring and concern whenever he has worked with us.

As underclassmen most of us knew this man by reputation only. Although he was well-respected by students and colleagues alike, he was also rather intimidating. His classes were said to be among the most difficult offered at Westwood High School, and we had heard that obtaining an "A" from him was nearly impossible. Once we became students of his we discovered that such rumors were only slightly exaggerated. More importantly, this teacher continually challenged us to use our minds. He is someone who offers his students the best of himself and expects nothing less in return.

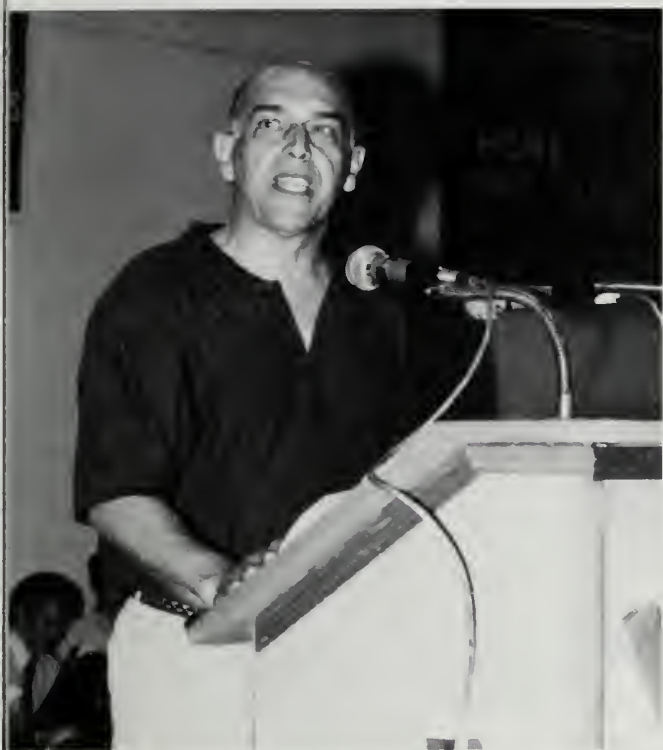

While this teacher is certainly one of the most demanding at Westwood High School, he is also one of the most giving. Students like him because he makes classes interesting. He demonstrates a passionate love for the subjects he teaches, and his enthusiasm is contagious. His teaching style is one of the most exciting and evocative we have ever encountered. Whether involving the class in a discussion on William Faulkner or giving a lecture on Picasso's Guernica, he is both captivating and engrossing. He is capable of transforming even the class "worm" into an eager learner. Amusing and witty, this man possesses a unique sense of humor which adds to his appeal. His personal attributes and eloquent command of language enable him to engage students in discussions that are especially thought provoking. He displays an optimistic outlook on life which inspires faith and hope in his students. Even in T.S. Eliot's The Wasteland and the tragic works of Eugene O'Neil, this man is able to find uplifting themes.

The extent of this man's talents and abilities is illustrated by the number and variety of courses he teaches. Over the past four years, we as students of WHS have had the opportunity to be taught by him in Junior Year English, AP Ascent of Man, AP Art History, and Studio Art. As an English teacher, he helped us develop strong writing and advocacy skills. While he encouraged us to develop original thoughts, he also taught us the importance of expressing our ideas in a clear and logical manner so as to convince others of their merit. Through his lectures on the history of art, he has instilled in us both an appreciation for visual arts and a deeper understanding of various cultures and civilizations, both past and present. In his studio art classes he not only teaches artistic methods and techniques but also encourages students to pursue their creative talents.

The recipient of the 1995 yearbook dedication has expressed a sincere concern for the members of our class both on an academic and on a personal level. In the fall he was buried with requests for college recommendations, and was asked to offer his expertise in helping many seniors write their college essays. He generously gave us his time and talent in these tasks. He also spent his February vacation touring Italy with sixteen seniors on an art history expedition. Clearly, this man has extended himself beyond those duties which were merely required or expected of him.

And so, in appreciation of his talents, efforts, and commitment, the members of the Westwood High School Class of 1995 hereby dedicate our yearbook to the most challenging, amusing, and inspiring teacher we know: Mr. Michael Milan.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

CENTRAL ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Leo Crowe
Assistant Superintendent

Dr. Joan Stipetic
Superintendent

This year marked the arrival of our new superintendent, Dr. Joan Stipetic. The school district and community welcomed her at a reception held at the high school in November. We, the seniors, would like to extend our personal welcome and wish her a successful, rewarding and happy tenure in Westwood. Our many thanks to retiring School Committee members Mrs. Mary Feeley and Mrs. Ann Christian, who served the schools and community so well for six years.

Mrs. Mary Feeley and Ann Christian
Retiring School Committee Members

As Student Liaison to the School Committee, I learned a lot about how the school system runs and the reasoning behind certain measures the system takes. I enjoyed my behind-the-scenes view of the school system and participating in the meetings. Although I was often nervous when I had to give a report, my experience on the School Committee was very valuable and one that I will never forget.

SCHOOL ADMINISTRATION

To the Class of 1995

As I write my annual message to our graduating class, I am very conscious that, in this case, it is my last one. As I join your class in leaving Westwood High School I wish all of you, my adopted classmates, success and prosperity in all of your future endeavors.

It has been a rare privilege for me to spend my long professional life in the service of this school and to see it develop into a first-rate institution of learning. You, as our most recent graduates, epitomize the success which we have attained. I represent the history of the school and the generation of teachers, students and administrators, present and departed, who worked to attain that success. Together we constitute the foundation upon which the future success of the school will be built, as it certainly will be.

I consider it a privilege to join you, and I thank you for all you have done to add luster to the reputation of Westwood High School during your years here.

Goodbye and Good Luck!

Phillip F. Flaherty
Principal

Mr. Phillip F. Flaherty
Principal

It seems like such a short time since your arrival as "apprehensive freshmen" to the sounds of Pomp and Circumstance echoing across the field to signal graduation for the Class of 1995. Your talents were many, your achievements abound, and you learned as a wonderful group of closely knit adults.

You have all received a sound academic, cultural, and academic experience which has prepared you for the exciting years and experiences that lie ahead. I will particularly remember the way you shared your talents and the care and concern you shared for others.

I thank you all for permitting me to share in your many activities—in the classroom, on the athletic fields, and at the extra-curricular events. It is truly one of the greatest rewards of an educator to witness such growth and enthusiasm.

I wish you well and urge you to stay involved with your school by keeping in touch with one another and attending alumni affairs.

GUIDANCE

The Guidance Department at Westwood is devoted to aiding all students planning for their future. The seniors at the high school are able to appreciate the impact of the Guidance Department more than the underclassmen can because of the enormous amount of work that they do in preparing all seniors for colleges and universities. The guidance counselors to the seniors consist of four different, but equally capable, administrators. They are Dr. Carol Kerrisey, department head, Ms. Carol Armstrong, Mrs. Mary LeVangie, and newcomer Mr. James Ash. Each senior is able to work closely with his assigned guidance counselor to complete financial aid forms. The guidance counselors not only work closely with each student, but also are always available in their offices to talk about any snags one might hit. Students can approach their counselors when they want to talk about any problems they are facing, or just need someone to rely on emotionally. The Guidance Department at Westwood High School does a wonderful job, and the Class of 1995 is grateful to them for their support and assistance.

FRONT OFFICE

The Front Office secretaries take care of the day-to-day needs of students from early in the morning until late afternoon. Very seldom do they leave their command posts- and indeed they are command posts- acting as the information networks of the school, making sure the communication lines remain open. A very special thanks to Mrs. Marjorie Hall, who retired this year after twenty-three years of service to the Westwood Schools, the last ten years as executive secretary to our principal, Mr. Phillip Flaherty.

ENGLISH

Writing and creativity are important to any student in high school and beyond. Language skills will be needed for any field ranging from science and math research to English papers. The English Department has devoted its time to teaching its students these skills. The Department has not only taught students how to write but also has challenged them to think creatively and critically.

The English Department has made it a point to go beyond just a five paragraph essay. Students are required to writing thorough, comprehensive and well-thought out papers. Among the many literary works the Class of '95 tackled over the years are Charles Dickens' Great Expectations, Nathaniel Hawthorne's The Scarlet Letter, and Emily Dickinson's poetry. It is obvious that WHS graduates will be well-prepared for the intensity of college-level work and the high expectations of their future professors.

The Class of '95 would like to thank all the teachers in the English Department for their hard work, patience and enthusiasm. We would also like them to know that once in college, we will all be very appreciative of all the time they have spent teaching us the important things we need to know.

Mr. Milan-

Q: What was your funniest experience with this year's seniors?

A: Facing them with a straight face.

Q: What are your favorite books to teach? Why?

A: Moby Dick and Billy Budd- they are the most challenging- trying to make my students love what they are convinced they must hate. This year I made a few converts.

Q: What is the most memorable question a student has asked you?

A: Do you miss not having me in class?

Q: What was the most ridiculous excuse that a student has given you for being late or not doing the homework?

A: I was in the Bahamas getting a funky hair-do.

Q: Any other significant comment about our class?

A: I will always remember that '95 was a vintage year.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Throughout the course of our history at WHS, the teachers in the Social Studies Department have provided us with many lasting impressions. Mr. Brown's lectures in American history included memorable anecdotes about "Spotty Lincoln," and Howard Taft who got stuck in the White House bathtub. Mr. Dore's European history class taught us facts such as how WWI began in "Sarah's Jello." "Basically," quotes from Mrs. Walsh's psychology videos and the many pronunciations of "Chechnya" in government class are fondly remembered. Mr. Berman's sarcastic remarks and Mr. Dillon's Irish brogue affected many of us either in class, driver's ed., or Legislative Council. In addition to leaving us various memories, the Social Studies department demonstrated much caring and affection for the Class of '95. Whether calling the nurse, "getting a wheelchair," or writing college recommendations, the teachers were always willing to help us students.

MR. BROWN-

Q: What was your funniest experience with one of this year's seniors?

A: Nothing comes immediately to mind, though watching "Super-Jock" Bill VanGelder get worked over by the emerging feminists in my D-Block AP US History class was mighty funny to witness.

Q: What are your favorite lessons to teach? Why?

A: I really like teaching about America's two greatest presidents (Washington and Lincoln) because of the great integrity each man demonstrated and the difficulties each overcame. The battles fought at Lexington and Gettysburg also really interest me.

Q: What is the most memorable question a student has asked you?

A: Nothing really "memorable" comes to mind, though students who are enrolled in my junior-year AP American Studies usually keep asking, "When are things going to get easier?" The answer is, "Never, never, never..."

Q: What was the most ridiculous excuse that a student has given you for being late or not doing the homework?

A: Usually students do their homework for me and I almost never ask for an excuse. Also, my students seldom offer one.

Q: Any other significant/interesting/funny experiences with our class?

A: This class contains a number of characters: John Tenofsky who never seemed to get any answers right during class discussions; Stephanie Connelly who can instantly change from a total recluse to a cackling comic; and Karen Lepri who seems to own a thousand faces and moods. Last year I liked everyone I taught. For hard work and commitment to success, last year's AP group was my best ever.

MATH

The Math Department has proved to the Class of 1995 that although its roots date back to the time of Pythagorus and before, knowledge of mathematics is invaluable in the world of technology in which we live. From Algebra I to AP Calculus, the math teachers of WHS strive to instill in their students both an ability to solve fundamental and complex problems and an understanding of their significance.

Although each has an individual way of running his/her classroom, the math teachers at WHS share not only a love for their subject, but also a dedication and devotion to teaching. These qualities come through in their classes. Department Head Jim Pender challenges students of various levels and abilities, and has been known to invite students to his house for late-night Pendermatics. Students of Mr. Kodzis remember his warm smile and willingness to provide extra-help both during and after school, while Mr. Hargreaves makes sure his students have a well-equipped, fully functioning mathematical "tool-box." And, everyone agrees that taking math with "Doc" Baker is a unique experience. Mrs. Relleva-formerly Miss Kelley-will be remembered by the Class of '95 not only for her excellent teaching of the fundamentals of geometry, but also for the fact that she married a fellow teacher at WHS, providing us gossip-loving adolescents with a fresh topic of conversation. Although Ms. Tosca was greatly missed during our senior year, Ms. Ritota became an important member of the Math Department and started some popular traditions, including March Madness. Finally, after teaching us for three years, Mr. Fischler eventually left the classroom to run the school's main computer, signifying the advancements WHS has made in terms of technology.

Mathematics is generally considered to be one of the most difficult subjects to learn, and our busy math seminar room concurs with this belief. However, under the influence of the Math Department, we have learned the rewards that come from perseverance and determination and have even acquired an appreciation of a subject that can be not only beautiful in its precision, but also valuable in its application.

SCIENCE

Mr. Kevin Burke

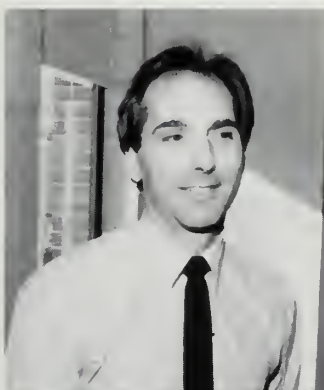

Mr. Peter Geary

Science and art belong to the whole world, and the barriers of nationality vanish before them.

-Goethe

Mr. Raymond Keegan

Mr. Wayne Relleva

Under the leadership and guidance of Dr. John Griffin, the Science Department of Westwood High School had another exciting year of scientific studies. The science teachers work very hard to broaden the minds of their students who someday may be discovering new fields in the scientific arena. The Science Department, in spite of all the very difficult subject matter, manages to keep its students on course with a lot of support and relevant material that applies to our everyday lives and makes science meaningful and exciting.

We, the Class of 1995, thank you all for your dedication and guidance, especially Mr. Raymond Keegan, who is retiring this year after twenty-nine years of teaching in the Science Department at WHS.

Mrs. JoAnn Staiti

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

The teachers of the Foreign Language Department have played an important role in our high school education by helping us not only to communicate with people of other nations but also to understand their cultural backgrounds. Other activities include the annual foods festival, where we experienced a "taste" of other cultures.

Specializing in Spanish, French, and Latin, these teachers share common qualities of dedication and a love of languages, but they possess a mix of personality traits which makes each class unique. As chairperson, Senora Perry is always striving to improve her department. She hopes to raise enough money to open a state-of-the-art language lab (unfortunately, too late for our class). With Mr. Nocito, Spanish lovers often find themselves debating (en espanol, of course) a wide range of issues: the death penalty, student governance, illegal expeditions to Cuba, the significance of bloodstains on shoes, to name a few. Ms. Tieri, when not captivating her classes with her slides of her trips to Rome, Greece, and Jerusalem, encourages her scholars to strive for a summa cum laude on the National Latin Exam. Furthermore, Mrs. Lannon has had a big impact on her students through her warmth and enthusiasm. Mr. Ducheneau and Ms. Chereski always greet all students in the halls with a friendly "hola" or "bonjour." And we all think Ms. Rice is "tres bonne" especially for letting last year's French IV students sing "La Marseilles" during an exam.

The Class of 1995 is grateful to these seven individuals for their encouragement and guidance over the past four years. "Vale," "Au Revoir," and "Adios!" A special thanks and note of recognition to Ms. Chereski who is retiring after thirty years in the Westwood Schools. We thank her for her contributions as a teacher and wish her much luck and happiness in future endeavors.

WHAT STUDENTS SAY ABOUT THE LEARNING CENTER:

"It helped me to become organized and move ahead."
"It's a home away from home."
"It's nice to have someone there if you need something."

WHAT STUDENTS SAY ABOUT THE ALTERNATIVE PROGRAM:

"It got me to school."
"It's good. It gives kids a chance when everyone else has given up on them."

What do Cher, Leonardo Da Vinci, Whoopi Goldberg, and Walt Disney have in common? They are (or were) all creative, successful, and learning disabled. The Special Education Program here at WHS seeks to instill in students a belief in themselves and their own strengths.

WHS prides itself on an innovative and almost fully integrated program in which students with special needs are placed in courses of all levels. Regular and special education teachers team up in many classes to address the needs of students. We have a very successful program at WHS.

VISUAL AND PERFORMING ARTS

WHS demonstrates awareness of the significance of the visual and performing arts in today's world by providing students with opportunities to study the arts. Former department head, Mr. Thomas Del Signore not only provided his students with a broad base for artistic development, but also shared with everyone his unforgettable, friendly character. Upon the retirement of the infamous and well-loved Mr. D., Ms. Kaiser, an experienced teacher with new and unique approaches to the study of art, was welcomed to the department. The ever-popular ceramics course is taught by Mrs. DesPres who is always helpful and enthusiastic. Her individualistic approach inspires her many students. Mr. Giurleo of the music department with his "upbeat," friendly attitude, always encourages his dedicated musicians. Ms. Hall, who teaches theater and chorale, is a favorite among students. She not only brings dedication and sincerity into the classroom, but extends herself by directing the school plays and musicals each year. Thanks to the enthusiastic staff, WHS's art department is a popular part of every student's studies.

MEDIA CENTER

Over the past four years, the Media Center has become more than just a library. Research projects became less tedious and more interesting with the help of Mrs. Mary Bishop and Mrs. Theresa McKay. The extensive collection of books, magazines of all kinds, reference materials and newspapers help create an atmosphere of learning and relaxation. We have all spent many of our free blocks in the library. As the director of the audio-visual section, Mr. Eugene Swezey helps add more variety and expertise to the academic experience.

Mrs. Bishop-

Q. What was your funniest experience with one of this year's seniors?

A. Seeing the volleyball team with pants inside out.

Q. What is your favorite book/experiment/or lesson? Why?

A. Barabara St. Georges loved McMillan's book, Disappearing Acts after I asked her to read it. First time she enjoyed reading, she said.

Q. What was the most ridiculous excuse that a student has given you for overdue books?

A. "That was my brother."

Q. Any other significant comments about our class?

A. Chip Grueter has been very helpful in suggesting what kids really like to read-automobile and computer magazines plus more about entertainment and humor.

BUSINESS AND INDUSTRIAL TECHNOLOGY

The Westwood High School Business and Industrial Technology Department prepares students for college as well as for the real world. This department helps students reach their business goals and opens up for them many career opportunities. Headed by Mr. Lawrence Rettman, the department offers courses in business law, word processing, accounting and industrial arts.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Want to get rid of that unsightly flab? Feel like knowing more about your "changing body"? Well, Westwood High's Physical Education Department can solve these problems, and many more. Although the Class of 1995 only had to take two years of gym class, many wished they could have taken more. Who could forget the enjoyment of dipping with Paul Tuccelli? What a rush! Not to mention the heated pickle ball tournaments run by the Dalai Lama of pickle ball, Miss Peters. In between medical school applications (he's still yet to get in), the athletic trainer, former "Division 1 soccer player" Jeff Baker kept us feeling good with expert tape jobs and quality first aid. He also helped keep us from getting too cocky with helpful reminders that there is "No 'I' in Team" and "No Heroes in this Locker Room." This motley bunch was kept in check by the stern, but fair hand of Athletic Director Doctor Gearon. The fine Doctor was able to outfit Westwood teams with the finest equipment while keeping their season running smoothly. Overall, this year was a good one for Westwood Athletics, expedited by such a fine Physical Education staff. The Directors 29

Marisa J. Delapa

Marisa

Once upon a time, there lived a man who had a terrible passion for baked beans. He loved them, but they always had an embarrassing and somewhat lively reaction on him. One day he met a girl and fell in love. When it was apparent that they would marry, he thought to himself, she'll never go through with the marriage with me carrying on like this, so he made the supreme sacrifice and gave up beans. Shortly after that they were married. They lived happily ever after...may we all do the same.

CLASS HISTORY

FRESHMAN YEAR

In September of 1991 the Class of '95 approached Westwood High School with the typical anxieties and fears of usual freshmen: Will I get lost? trip in the lunchroom or get stuffed in a locker?

Our fears quickly subsided after we survived the opening day picnic. We quickly built a strong bond with the senior grade and reveled in the attention.

Students of the Class of '95 boldly took to school-wide activities, participating in things such as the Dating Game and Spring Fling. We also had specific activities geared to the freshman class. Under the direction of Mrs. Petrakos and Mrs. Malm, we sponsored a Greek Week, which ended in a festival complete with authentic Greek dancers. Also Mrs. Rita Kesselman came and shared her experiences as a Nazi camp survivor after the entire class read Night. We all stood behind President Reed McLaughlin, VP John Guindon, Secretary Latifa Gordon and Treasurer Vic Servello. We ended the year with a successful freshman/sophomore semi-formal and beach trip. Excited, yet a little misty-eyed, we were no longer the frosh of the school.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

The end of summer '92 came a little less dreadedly and many actually looked forward to returning to the repetitive life of school. We were a bit more secure in our efforts, and almost everyone found somewhere where he or she belonged. The halls no longer led to nowhere, and for once, we saw faces with the same look of paranoid fear from the other end.

Our much more "at home" attitude reflected in what we did as individuals and as a class. On the athletic fields, we helped our football team and swim team on to undefeated records, and played a role in the success of the boys' and girls' basketball teams, the hockey team and boys' track.

Our officers, President Stephanie Connelly, VP Heather Liddell, Treasurer Victor Servello, and Secretary Latifa Gordon also did their jobs as leaders in representing grade 10 among the older officers in a new student government. As the year ended, we were all constantly reminded of their "most important year at high school," which loomed up the road. But, that was set aside, while the idea of being an UPPERCLASSMAN took the spotlight.

-Bill Scales

JUNIOR YEAR

For the Class of 1995, junior year was an excellent year, filled with many challenges and much success. In our third year of high school, we passed the getting-adjusted days of our youth and found our niche at WHS.

Academically, junior year was for the most challenging. In the classroom we faced such challenges as AP American Studies, taught by the Terrifying Trio -

Mrs. Kelsch, Mr. Milan and Mr. Brown. Many of us were also challenged by math teachers like Ms. Tosca, who despite being loved for her sensitivity and humor, was not known for administering easy tests. However, we not only managed to survive the never-ending writing assignments and last minute cramming sessions, but also achieved a sense of accomplishment and confidence as our abilities and grades (hopefully) improved.

We were told that junior year was the most crucial year as far as colleges were concerned - and most of us were able to study hard and do well - on weekdays, that is. During the weekends we spent our time at school dances, athletic events and (yes, even in Westwood) some pretty good parties. On the playing fields (and in the pool), WHS athletes did exceptionally well. Records were (and broken) in the cross country team, girls' swim team, and field hockey team. At school, clubs, Mentors, P, Counselors, and Ecolibrium,

Class of '95 began to take leadership roles. The Student Council sponsored traditional events such as Homecoming Week, Spring Fling, as well as some new activities, such as The Dating Game and Lip Sync. Class President Jessica Chiricotti, Heather Liddell, Secretary Megan Ordway, and Treasurer Victor Servello also helped organize many school activities and raise funds for senior year. In May, when the Class of '95 left the building, we all experienced a taste of what it would be like to be SENIORS - and loved it!

-Beth McCoy

SENIOR YEAR

As the hot summer afternoons of '94 gave way to the first days of September, the Class of 1995 returned to school to write the final chapter of its Westwood High School career. As first grade through eleventh quickly melted into a giant blur, we promenaded onto the high school campus exuding our supremacy and gloating with superiority as the new seniors of the school.

The year began beautifully. We eased our way from summer to schooling with a two and a half day Club Med vacation, otherwise known as Orientation '94. A far cry from building a tower with newspaper and duct tape, this year's orientation included hilarious gossip session, five-minute classes, and a school-wide human chair.

Classes, the fun and games couldn't last forever and eventually we actually had to go to classes. Although most students were wary enough not to schedule too demanding classes for their senior year, we took the first two terms seriously and studied hard, but not too hard, because, after all, we were seniors and we did have senior events to worry about, especially the Powder Puff game in October. The game between the girls and boys was cut-throat from the very beginning. The girls struck first as Heather Hiddell broke through the menacing boys' defense for a quick 10-0 lead. But the boys' had heart and held strong, and, regardless of having ropes tied around their feet to hinder their performance, they evened the score with a mad dash by Eric Gunderson capped by a fearless flying leap into the end zone. The two sides traded touchdowns again, and despite some highly questionable calls made by the officiating crew, the boys hung tough.

But, it wasn't in the cards for the valiant boys that mild October afternoon as Linda Dilalla ran sixty yards for a score and put the girls up for good. And so, the dirty, low-down, underhanded play of the girls brought them another Powder Puff victory. But neither side held a grudge as the two rivals exchanged pleasantries over a hearty Boston Chicken meal. In these early fall and winter months, the Senior class never had a shortage of fun, as the Senior Class Officers booked the months up solid with dances. Celebrating every event from Homecoming to Halloween to snow, the high school was looking less like an institute for learning and more like Dance Party USA.

But the first semester senior year was not just one great party after another, even though many students certainly tried their best, as the three most dreaded words in any senior's vocabulary loomed: COLLEGE — APPLICATION — PROCESS. From scratching and clawing to make Early Decision deadlines to filling out those pesky Student Questionnaire Forms to the evil college essay, the college application process held the key to our future and fed on our worst nightmares all during a few terrible months. As the year grew closer to a close, and we found ourselves scrambling for the mailbox on January 1st, we learned a whole new definition of the word procrastination.

But the New Year did in fact arrive, putting an end to this hideous process once and for all and ushering in the second semester senior year, known better as the time to kick back, relax, and slack off. Going to classes suddenly became like an ancient mystical ritual, void of meaning but yet compulsory. The month of February brought slightly colder weather, the hockey tournament, and a much anticipated trip to Italy for 15 members of Mr. Milan's Art History class. Spending ten days in the culturally rich "boot," the students awed in amazement at Michelangelo's David in Florence, lounged in the sun outside the cathedral and Leaning Tower in Pisa, munched on shrimp and calamari beside the Grand Canal for an evening in Venice, and strummed Barry's guitar on the Spanish Steps in Rome. Previously unimaginable, the trip enlightened and entertained these young high school students and many still sit in an awe-inspired daze today just conjuring up images from that memorable excursion. When the Art History class returned home, they were greeted by cold air and snow on the ground, but the chilly conditions quickly gave up its grip on the weather as Father Winter yielded to spring.

As fresh flowers began to bloom and little buds conceded to leaves on the branches, March and April whizzed by and seniors were beginning to see the end. The annual week of Spring Fling was concluded by the Mr. Westwood High Dance, which turned out to be one the most spirited and entertaining school-related events of the year. Although many strong senior contestants made solid claims for the coveted prize of Mr. Westwood High, in the end Bill Van Gelder earned the honors. In addition to Spring Fling, seniors also kept themselves entertained (since they obviously weren't going to study) by heading down to the Bahamas for a week of sun, sea, and sand during Spring break.

But all good things had to come to an end, and so, like clockwork, May, the final month of school for seniors, climbed into the picture. Possibly the most hectic, but yet enjoyable, month of the year, the seniors rationed their time between the Jr./Sr. Prom, AP Testing, senior activities, and fulfilling these annoying senior obligations. This week we marched, we swam in 48 degree water and ate steamed clams during our Beach Trip, and we marched again. Today, we take a breath to acknowledge our numerous achievements over the years, tomorrow we practice marching one final time, and then the whirlwind known as senior year at Westwood High School finally comes to an end with Sunday's exercises.

In general, the year was fast and frantic. We did a little studying, we did a lot of playing, and when we walk out these doors for the last time, we'll have a thousand memories to look back upon and remember it all. Bye.

Congratulations, Class of 1995!

I never had such a different experience. When I first came here, I was so scared to talk to anybody. I tried a lot because I had no idea what to speak in English; however, all my friends made me happy and also my teachers were so kind to teach me English. Now English is part of my life. Everything is still here in my mind and memory. I'll never forget this memory and I hope our friendships will be eternal and you won't forget me.

And my dream is almost ending now...

Being in Westwood High School was the best experience in my whole life. In these four months of classes, I improved my English, met friends, learned about this country and its culture. This is a lesson that I am never going to forget. I wish my program was longer. I really enjoyed being a student as a senior at Westwood High.

My first month here was very difficult for me; it took me time to adapt. It's not because of the school. It's because the language, the system, the people, the culture; everything was different to me. Everything was new. That's why I really appreciate the friendship that people gave to me. I can't find words to express all my thanks.

Lots of people asked me why I decided to be in a high school for another year (I've graduated in Argentina already). Well, the studying part is not so much fun, but it's interesting. However, making friends was the best thing in my life. That's why I really enjoyed every class in my senior year. I am very shy, that is true, but I laugh at the same jokes that you do. We are all human beings! It's so funny, this world is so small.

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to be an exchange student for a whole semester. I'll remember you with love, every day of my life...

Saying good-bye
is the hardest thing to do.
So I'll try to pretend that tomorrow I'll come back.
All of the seniors are leaving a part of their hearts.
However at the same time,
we are taking with us
the best of our teenage memories.
We are scared
because we have to fly alone now.
However we are sure that we can do it after all your wise lessons.
Thank you, Westwood High!
You helped us to grow up and become the seed that is starting to prosper in this life, through your bosom and your hand of friendship.
Saying good-bye

Saturday, October 15th from nine to two o'clock, the freshman class completed the project painting the guest bleachers, it had set out to accomplish. As the saying goes, there is strength in numbers. Seventy-two students, to be exact, showed up, more than we ever expected. We broke into shifts and from nine to eleven, we scraped and sanded the steel foundation of the bleachers. Eleven to one we painted and from one to two, we did touch-ups. A special thanks to Mrs. Carol Gallagher and Mr. Brendan Dillon, who were the leaders that helped us supervise and complete this important project.

To all of the freshmen who made the freshman project a success, thank you.

Students showed their school spirit with green and white painted faces and green-sprayed hair, as they cheered the fall sports teams and their captains and the Homecoming Court at the school pep rally on Green Pride Day, the last day of Homecoming Week. Colleen McDermott wore Westwood High School's new wolverine costume while prancing around the gym floor in front of the cheering crowd. The participation of numerous students during the special days, Inside-out Backwards Day, Pajama Day, Clash Day and Green Pride Day, truly illustrated Westwood's school spirit.

Mr. WHS

As part of the Spring Fling Week, sponsored by the Student Council, the Mr. WHS competition was held on an April Friday evening. This was the culminating event after a week of color wars, and volleyball tournaments. Bill Van Gelder was crowned Mr. WHS after all contestants had a chance to perform, to be interviewed, and to strut their talents. Congratulations to Bill and all the other contestants for being such good sports.

Our friends from Argentina

Dear Host Families and Teachers, we are all really glad we came here to stay with you.

Being away from our home for six weeks is something we thought about twice before doing. But now we know we made the best choice we could have made, and after these six weeks we spent in this beautiful town full of beautiful people we feel we have another family and another place where we can feel at home.

At the beginning we had to go through a natural period of adaptation so we had some little problems.

School schedules can be confusing when you're not used to them and we know all about it!! Different countries have different customs and the U.S. and Argentina are not the exception-specially when it comes to meal hours! At first it was a little strange for us to have dinner at 6 o'clock but after a couple of weeks we got used to it.

The list of things we had to adapt to goes on but thanks to your help we could handle them successfully

We enjoyed the trips we took with you, the Semi-Formal Dance and the parties at the Laham's and at the Maione's a lot. We learnt a big deal about you and your culture and we hope that now you also know more about us.

People at Westwood High School were just the best we could ever expect. The teachers let us join their classes and tried to make us feel comfortable in them. Dr. Kervisey and the people at the Guidance Department spent a lot of time fixing our schedules and getting people to come talk to us. For all those things we are more than grateful.

So we wanna thank you for devoting so much time to us and taking us to such nice places. We wanna thank you for opening the doors of your school to us and helping us so much there. We wanna thank you for letting us be a part of your family and treating us so well. We wanna thank you for taking care of us and sharing so many things with us. And also for all the rides you gave us!

We would like to stay here longer and even when we don't know if we will be able to come back and visit you there's one thing we are sure about: WE WON'T FORGET YOU OR THESE WONDERFUL SIX WEEKS WE SPENT WITH YOU!!!

THANK YOU VERY MUCH!!

Legislative Council

The Legislative Council is a very important part of the Westwood High School governance program. The council is composed of students, faculty members, support staff and community members at large. The Legislative Council, similar to Congress, analyzes and proposes the laws of the school. During the 1994-95 session, the Council ran two successful community meetings, passed a number of proposals and evaluated and changed the student handbook. In addition, the Legislative Council is primarily responsible for the organization of the two annual community meetings. The first meeting this year focused on the governance system and how to access it. The second meeting centered on the student handbook. Also under discussion and voted upon were a number of proposals during the year. Some of the proposals passed dealt with the distribution of the constitution, the x-block schedule and the formation of a media center rules committee. Other topics discussed were open campus and the media center. Furthermore, the Legislative Council took on the responsibility of reviewing the student handbook. In conclusion, the 1994-95 Legislative Council had a very successful, busy year. The accomplishments of the Council will remain a part of Westwood High School's history and will help to govern students.

Judicial Council

The Judicial Council represents one branch of the governance system and is composed of eleven members, students and teachers. The council serves as a forum for any member of the school community who has a complaint with a person, occurrence or application of the Handbook or the Constitution. With school government only three years old, the Judicial Council played a big part this year in smoothing out the hearing process and setting crucial precedents. Though not many noticeable differences have taken place so far, the operations of the council this year will have serious long term effects of the application of rules and the role of governance at the high school. The majority of the cases heard by the Judicial Council this year have consisted of administrative decisions concerning disciplinary measures. Complications during many of the cases arose due to unclear writing in the Handbook, allowing for extremely thorough case decisions which will help the committee revising the Handbook. Overall, this year the Judicial Council succeeded in making the school community more aware of its accessibility and significance to the operations of the school.

Executive Branch

The Executive Branch of Westwood High School consists of the Principal and the Assistant Principal who exercise the powers to assume the responsibilities, including disciplinary actions, normally associated with their respective positions and outlined in their respective job descriptions. The Principal is considered to be the Chief Executive, and implements the policies and rules of the School Committee, the Central Administration, the Legislative Council, and the decisions of the Judicial Council. The Chief Executive also has the power to amend any decision or policy that he deems to be unreasonable or inconsistent with the Constitution's policies.

Student Government Day

As Westwood High School's Student Government Day delegate, I participated in an event where students from all over Massachusetts gathered at the State House and filled the positions of all government officials. I was elected to be a senator and participated on a Senate Hearing Committee. The introduction to state government and participation in the government's affairs proved to be both interesting and educational.

Arbitration Council

In accordance with the Constitution, the Arbitration Council is called upon to settle disputes. The members of this committee ran seminars instructing first year students in the arbitration process and helped the students find creative resolutions to conflicts that would satisfy all parties involved.

Climate Committee

The WHS Climate Committee is a small group which focuses on the importance of the school atmosphere. We deal with the social issues which contribute to the overall attitude of the building and community. Throughout the '95-'96 school year, the Climate Committee has completed a cultural mural, which was started last year. We have also produced the winter sports calendar, and are currently working on the star of the week award and the extra-curricular activities pamphlet.

Student Advisory Board

The Student Advisory Board serves as the liaison between the student body and the faculty, administration and school committee. The Student Advisory Board is responsible for planning events to enlighten and educate the school community. The '95-'96 Student Advisory Board accomplished the aforementioned objectives and more in what was a very successful year.

The December Community Meeting was the responsibility of the Student Advisory Board. The Student Advisory Board decided to focus on the governance system and how to utilize the system. The community meeting began with mini-meetings, which discussed scenarios in which the governance system could be accessed. After the mini-meetings, the entire community convened in the gym for an open-forum discussion of what occurred in the mini-meetings.

The Student Advisory Board also collected hats, mittens, gloves and scarves for a homeless shelter for teenagers, Bridge Over Troubled Waters, in December. In March, Social Issues Awareness Month was sponsored by the Student Advisory Board. The program began with Molly Kelly, a nationally acclaimed speaker, on chastity. Molly wowed the students with her terrific sense of humor, her caring nature, her message and her respect for adolescents. Peter Keanan followed Molly's lead and gave an informative talk on how to access the AIDS programs for adolescents in the city and talked about his work with adolescent AIDS patients. The next speaker, Dr. Laura Weisburg, addressed the subject of eating disorders. She gave an informative talk on why people develop eating disorders and what friends can do to help other friends suffering from a disorder. The final assembly involved a multi-cultural group whose performance celebrated racial differences and how different people can get along. As a whole, the program was very successful, educational and popular with the students.

Furthermore, the Student Advisory Board welcomed spring after the long winter months with daffodils. Daffodil Day, or the first day of spring, was celebrated by the Student Advisory Board by the distribution of daffodils to the faculty and staff of the high school, the administration and staff in the Administration Building. The daffodils were given to the Student Advisory board in return for a donation to the American Cancer Society. In May, the excitement of the moving of the Fisher School extended into the high school. The Board helped out by running a raffle to help raise funds for the move.

The '94-'95 school year proved to be a very busy and productive one for the Board. As always the Board conducted its affairs in a professional and determined manner and even extended its responsibilities. The '94-'95 Student Advisory Board has proved itself to be a group of hard-working students whose efforts will be remembered and exalted as an important part of Westwood High history. A sincere thanks to Mrs. Frances Petrakos and Mr. Charles Flahive, our advisors, for their help during the year.

Peer Educators

Westwood High School's Peer Educator group, supervised by Mrs. Linda Hanlon, is made up of sophomores, juniors and seniors who have expressed an interest in instructing younger students in the system. After undergoing training themselves, these students create, implement and present lessons to the seventh grade class on a variety of topics of relevance and interest to students.

Peer Counselors

This is the fifth year a group of peer counselors have served fellow students at the high school. Under the leadership of Ms. Carol Armstrong, peer counselors are involved in one-on-one helping relationships. They will listen and help their peers with issues ranging from substance abuse to conflicts with friends, teachers or parents. They provide valuable support when students must deal with considerable outside pressures. To become a Peer Counselor, students devote much of their time to training sessions and then time during their school day when they have their peer counseling meetings.

Amnesty International

At Amnesty International, Westwood Chapter, students were invited to continue a rich tradition of expression and freedom through letter writing and various activities. Through a national system, we distributed info-letters which described cases of social injustice around the world. The students proceeded to write letters to different world leaders expressing concern about the cases and the victims. Although it was a "slow" year for Amnesty, an elite group of members was tediously selected and given special training for an exciting trip to the Amnesty International Write-A-Thon. They wrote letters at different stations, enjoyed each other's company and the complimentary coffee and pastries, and even enjoyed the cacophonous music which various artists created on a small stage. The trip was a success, and advisor Rex Babiera even won a prize (which he has still not claimed).

Key Club

Considering the rising significance of community service in the nation, Key Club is very valuable as the school's volunteer organization. Key Club tries to instill in students the importance of caring for people in need. Members of Key Club this year participated in many individual activities outside of school. Some students volunteered at nearby nursing homes, at a cooking class for the handicapped, or at activities with the Recreation Department. Others volunteered after school with the disabled students at the high school. This year one member helped out at a center for blind people in Boston. As a group the Key Club participated in other various activities such as a canned food drive, Pennies for Pine Street collection, the Walk for Hunger and a clothes drive. Around Christmas time, Key Club and non-members too, decorated spoons to raise money for Project Bread. This activity was successful in getting many people in the school to realize that doing something to help the needy can be fun and creative. At the end of the year, the Key Club organized a miniature carnival for the children at the Extended Day Program. Through participation in these individual activities and group events, members of Key Club learn the value of community service.

Safe Rides

Safe Rides is a student run organization which helps to cease drunk driving. The members of the group pick up any student who feels that he or she is not in condition to drive home safely. Safe Rides aims to stop drinking and driving throughout the school year.

Chess Club

This year the Chess Team, under the direction of Mr. Dillon and co-captains Britt Greenbaum and Greg Brown, returned for its second year with a respectable season. The team consisted of the two co-captains, Marc Sarouphim, Luc Sarouphim, and David Weiner. Also, numerous other players attended the weekly meetings to play chess after school. The membership varied with each week due to various other commitments, but well over thirty people from time to time played in the club's weekly meetings.

Girls' & Boys' State

Girls' State is an all girls' state-wide program sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. Approximately three hundred girls attend each year at Mount Holyoke College in South Hadley, Massachusetts. Each girl participates in one of two political parties, nominates candidates for office and conducts campaigns in preparation for elections. Furthermore, every day at Girls' State there are high state officials as guest speakers. At Girls' State all the girls get to participate in rallies, city and town meetings, plays, and then the inauguration of those elected to offices. All these different activities brought a lot of the girls closer and many friendships were formed. Boys' State, organized similarly to Girls' State, met at Bentley College in Waltham. Dave Paster, Jonathan Small and Reed McLaughlin participated in the government processes ranging from the local level to the national level.

Math Team

The Math Team consists of about fifteen WHS student who actually enjoy mathematics. Every Wednesday or Thursday, Math Team members travel to other schools in the Greater Boston Area for an afternoon of competition and amusement (not necessarily in that order). This year's team contains WHS students from all four grade levels and was led by Captains Beth Molloy and David Weiner. Although the team did not boast the best record in the league, the high scorers' list consistently included names of Westwood mathletes (this success can be partially attributed to the team's notorious pre-meet lunch trips). The team thanks Coach Jim Pender for his dedication and upbeat attitude, which helped make the season both successful and fun.

Drama Club

The WHS Drama Club had another extremely successful year with a new slate of officers and was assisted by our brilliant advisor, Mrs. Stephanie Kelsch. The year began with the annual production of the After Dinner Theater where the Drama Club performed a series of skits based on the British Broadcasting Company. Not only was that show a huge success (especially with our parents), but also our Kids On the Block puppet program was a continued favorite. Members of the Drama Club traveled down to the elementary schools, during their free time mind you, to help the students become more aware of handicaps and disabilities through fun puppets and scenes. The Drama Club closed the year by starting a new tradition called Courtyard Classics. This non-stress, casual performance was held in our school's court yard and had no outside audience members. The students performed for each other while enjoying delicious food and snacks. The "picnic" was a huge success and with the same officers elected for next year; hopefully it will return next year. Once again, a round of applause must be awarded to Mrs. Kelsch. Without her enthusiasm, dedication and terrific sense of humor, the Drama Club would not be where it is today.

Morning Announcers

In the school year of 94-95, the voices of Wes Davis, Jess Chiricotti, Karen Lepri, Jenn Grady, and Rory O'Dea ruled the air waves of Westwood High School. The troupe of announcers consistently and clearly delivered the news and happenings of the high school, always keeping students on top of the latest breaking news. The best part of all is that we all had a great time doing it!

School Store

The school store remained a pleasant after-school fixture this year. We tallied over four thousand dollars in sales this year. But the fun that was had was priceless. It started in September with anti-Buffer week. Unfortunately, the general public did not think it was that fun. We soon introduced the love cooler which became a big hit with the staff, as well as the store's close allies. Bill Scales gained repeat customers for us with his funny yet sometimes risky messages on the "menu" board. Soon after we began to let an array of people work the store. This was due to the spread of senioritis. The regulars at the store became Todd Miner, Nylt "Dogg" and me (Vic). We would also like to thank O'Dea, Davis Will M., Ordway, Ben R. (and any one else who helped run the joint) for all their hard work and dedication to keeping the Sweet Tooth of Westwood High satisfied. Sooooooo long.

No Parentheses

All things profound and beautiful tend to turn up either in the pages of No Parentheses or on its staff. Our staff spends hours on floors with glue on its fingers and Billy Joel on the stereo, systematically piecing and re-piecing the innards of a high school literary magazine. This year our group successfully printed and sold a winter edition featuring the drawings, paintings, and writings of WHS. We learned how to evaluate prose and poetry for content and voice. We discovered the backdoors and side yards of Microsoft works. This spring hopes to bring a supplement to the winter edition, and next year a slightly smoother process.

The Expression

The Expression is the students' newspaper which is designed by students for students. The newspaper provides a voice for students of WHS and enlightens students about events occurring in their high school. The Expression staff worked steadily throughout the fall, writing articles, typing, taking pictures and editing despite college application deadlines and other school responsibilities. Finally, in December, the first issue was ready to be printed. Hot off the presses, the newspaper was the newspaper to read at Westwood High School in December of 1994. The hard work and determined efforts of the staff paid off as The Expression was finally a tangible newspaper. The staff also was busy working out some guidelines of their own. It developed an editing policy and a statement of purpose. Also, the staff worked very hard throughout the year soliciting for advertisements and donations and having a bake sale to provide funds for the printing of the paper. The Expression staff once again kept the school newspaper alive and maintained its existence at Westwood High. A sincere thanks to Dr. Earls, our advisor, for his help during the year.

Scholastic Art Awards

A panel of professional artists and art educators chose the works of two Westwood seniors to be displayed in the 45th Annual Boston Globe Scholastic Art Awards exhibit, which was held at the State Transportation Building in Boston. Mark Masterson received a Silver Key in the category of Ceramic Sculpture. Lisa Martin received the Gold Key in the category of mixed media. Gold Key winners represented their schools in the national competition. This year Westwood High School granted an honorary art award to a non-art major who demonstrated artistic as well as academic excellence. For her Gold Key winning entry in the Scholastic Art Awards competition and for representing Westwood nationally, the Honorary Art Award went to senior Lisa Martin.

Ecolíbríum

Ecolibrium is a club dedicated to learning about our natural environment and working to protect it. As a group, we try to educate ourselves and others about the importance of preserving our environment and ways in which we can help. Ecolibrium is responsible for recycling white paper and aluminum cans at WHS and for posting the how-to-help-your-environment signs in the bathrooms; a campaign we call "toilet talk." In the past years we have conducted school-wide clean-ups, sold T-shirts with our slogan, and painted a rain forest mural in Mrs. Staiti's room. We also began a project of making an eco-safe lower courtyard with colorful painted benches and spring flowers. A special thanks goes to this year's hard working board members Erica Hesch, Karen Lepri, Beth Molloy, and Kerry Malloy for all their dedication. Our message is clear: We believe everyone has a responsibility to help protect our environment. As Ghandi once said: "Whatever you do may seem insignificant but it is very important that you do it."

Mentors

The Westwood High School Mentors is a group of junior and senior students interested in chaperoning Teen Center dances at the Thurston Middle School. Students involved with this group watch over middle school students in their gym (as they play basketball during the dances) and in the cafeteria (where the music and dancing takes place). Mentors also sell soda and candy to middle school students and get the opportunity to learn how to DJ all by themselves. A large group of students made up the Mentors this year. A Teen Center took place once a month. Juniors and seniors enjoyed the free pizza before every dance, decorating the cafeteria and setting up the music and concession for the middle school students. The Teen Centers were not only fun for the younger students, but also enjoyable for the Mentors who had a chance to dance, eat and be with fellow high school friends.

Merit Scholars

The National Merit Scholarship Corporation announced in September, 1994, that three students from Westwood High School earned honors for their performance on the October, 1993 National Merit Qualifying Exam. To earn status of National Merit Commended Student, a student must earn a qualifying score that places him/her in the top 5% of all student participants across the country. In all 35,000 students earned this status. Westwood High School is proud that three students are among this group: Elizabeth Molloy, Sarah Molloy and Erin Toner.

Latin Scholars

Latin Scholars

Who says Latin is a dead language? Certainly not Ms. Ann Tieri's Latin I and II classes at Westwood High, who recently earned a chariot-full of awards and medals for their performance in this year's National Latin Exam. Almost half of the 38 freshman and sophomores who took the exam came away with victory laurels, ranging from gold and silver medals to certificates of honor. Dulce at decorum est, for sure. Gold medal winners: Alan Crede (Latin I), Tarleton Hill (Latin II) Silver medal winners: David Kim (Latin I), Michael Collins (Latin II) Honorable Mentions: Rachel Hart, Jamie Martin, Meredith Chace, Jake McDonnell, Maureen Sullivan, Kerrie O'Donnell, Melissa Cosgrove, Khrysti Nazzaro, Jaclyn McHugh, Katherine Togin, Courtney McGowan, Matt Bolser, Sarah Warren and Alexandra Martisauskas (Mario R. ## SADD

Westwood High School's SADD chapter is run by Mrs. Linda Hanlon and is made up of sophomores, juniors and seniors dedicated to educating others about the dangers of drinking and driving. The main project of SADD this year was a conference held at Best Western Conference Center for many local SADD chapters. We got together in groups and discussed the different techniques and ways of teaching others. It also included a guest speaker, skits and games. We also made a "chain of life." Made up of strips of paper with students' names on them, this chain symbolized the school as a community. The purpose of the chain was to show that if one person was lost due to drunk driving, the whole chain would be broken.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society is a selective organization dedicated to scholarship, leadership, character and service. Membership is the highest honor conferred by the school.

National Honor Society Induction, 1995
In Response to the Presentation of the Plaque
Dedicating the Frances M. Burns Little Theater

I know that some of you in the room tonight don't know Fran Burns, but I can confidently say that every member of the National Honor Society, both old and new, has been influenced by her. The explanation is simple. Fran is the woman who essentially built the English Department faculty that we have at this high school. The challenges that she issued to us are reflected in the challenges that we issue to you.

I'm delighted to have a plaque in her memory hang in my classroom—not just because it will give me a chance to talk about her with new generations of students, but also because it will remind me on a daily basis of a woman whose professional career really DID exemplify the lofty qualities we're celebrating in this ceremony tonight. Fran Burns consistently demanded the highest standards of academic excellence and integrity not just from students, but also from teachers and administrators and—on more than one memorable occasion—parents as well.

As we say in the English Department: Fran Burns hired us. Fran Burns continues to inspire us. If we could express one wish to the students here tonight, it would be that as you move through your education and into your careers you, too, will find the same kind of dynamic role model to remind you that the noble promises made here this evening not only can be kept, but must be kept.

Thank you.
Stephanie Shute Kelsch

Société Honorare de Français

The French National Honor Society serves to provide outstanding students in the French language with opportunities to use their knowledge of the language and the French culture in fun and enjoyable ways. This year began with the election of the new officers and the induction ceremony honoring new members. Society members took part in a series of activities, including selling Valentine's Day cookies, collecting money to provide food for unfortunate Haitian families and preparing French desserts for a dinner with the Spanish National Honor Society. By spending time with the Spanish Society and participating in events and activities for their own society, the French Society's members had an enjoyable and productive year.

Anne McLaughlin signs the French National Honor Society's book of members' names.

Guest speakers with Mr. Flaherty.

Sociedad Honoraria Hispanica

The Westwood High School chapter of La Sociedad Honoraria Hispanica (SHH) strives to promote an appreciation of the Spanish language and an understanding of Hispanic cultures. Admission to the society is based not only on an interest in the study of the Spanish language but also on demonstrated academic excellence in all areas of study. This year's officers were President Beth Molloy, Vice-President Karen Lepri and Treasurer/Secretary Jen Ryan. In addition to an induction ceremony conducted almost entirely "en Espanol," this year's activities included selling "Buena Suerte" grams and making Spanish holiday cards with the kindergarten students of the Paul Hanlon School. SHH also sold "helado" in the cafeteria, charging $1.00 for every ice cream ordered in English but only $.75 for each ordered in Spanish. Due to the enthusiasm of its members and strong guidance of advisor Senora Perry, 1995 was a very successful year for Westwood High's Spanish Honor Society.

Green Years

This year's Westwood High Green Years staff consisted of very dedicated and very patient students, including Co-Editors-in-Chief Beth Molloy and Shiva Aliabadi and Advisor Ms. Frances Petrakos, who managed to create a yearbook that would be pleasing to all members of the Class of '95. Each staff member was assigned to a specific portion of the yearbook and in the end, everything was put together to create this book. The job sometimes seemed tedious, especially with so many deadlines and duties, but the staff members stuck to it. As a result, the '95 yearbook is different from previous years and very exciting. In addition, the staff gave all class members a chance to vote on a teacher to dedicate the yearbook to. This year's dedication went to Mr. Michael Milan. By reading the articles and browsing through the photos of these pages, it is clear that the Green Years staff has captured the true essence of the Class of '95.

Student Council

The Student Council had a successful and enjoyable year, full of a variety of activities. Early in the year a candy apple sale was held and Halloween was celebrated by a hallway decoration contest and students and faculty dressed up in their favorite costumes. Later, Homecoming Week, which included Pajama Day, Clash Day, Hippie Day and Green Pride Day, was celebrated. During the holiday season the Student Council, with the assistance of the Student Advisory Board, purchased gifts for a needy family. The arrival of spring was celebrated with the Spring Fling activities. A week of volleyball and the Mr.. Westwood High Dance were the highlights. All in all, the Student Council enjoyed a year full of successful activities.

1994 Mass Division 6A SUPER BOWL CHAMPIONS

Our season started off quickly after double sessions with the three scrimmages against Canton, Shawsheen, and Southeastern. Our team learned a lot about each other and knew we would be very successful. Our first game we played Chelsea and won by a considerable amount. We played the rest of the season with a lot of emotion and arrived at the Holliston game undefeated. We won that game 57-0 and proceeded on to the Superbowl. Finally, we concluded our season by winning the Superbowl and capturing the division championship.

Much talent SPORTSMANSHIP ON THE FIELD

TEAM CAPTAINS

Although their achievement may not be reflected in their overall record (3-10-4), the WHS Girls' Field Hockey players displayed much talent and sportsmanship on the field. This year, the team scored thirteen goals and moved up in the standings to sixth place, above both Hopkinton and Dover-Sherborn in the very competitive Tri-Valley League. Of the games lost, three were by just one goal.

After a summer filled with field hockey, (almost all members attended camp, and eleven participated in the Bay State Games), the girls came out strong and defeated Dedham in a pre-season scrimmage 2-0. During the regular season play, the team defeated Dedham, Dover-Sherborn, and Hopkinton, and also managed to tie third place Medway. In addition, the girls nearly defeated rival Medfield, but let up a tough goal in the last twenty seconds of the game. Despite the Medfield game and several other "could've been's," the team maintained an enthusiastic and optimistic attitude.

Senior players included Co-captains Beth Molloy, Maria Maione, and Danielle Petrucci, as well as Nancy McLaughlin, Jessica Chiricotti, Stephanie Connelley, and Goalie Erin Mitchell. While Maria and Steph did an excellent job on defense, Jess and Danielle were great forwards, and Beth and Nancy were a strong force on the midfield. Erin Mitchell was a highly skilled goalie, sharing the net with Junior Allison Dick. The team's high scorer was Meg Molloy, who scored five goals and two assists. Following Meg were Danielle, with four points; Nancy, Beth and Sophomore Roe Decenzo three points each; and Jess with one goal. Beth and Nancy both represented Westwood in the TVL All-Star game, along with Juniors Tracy Tisdale and Nicole Neault.

1-0 upset over Hopkinton, we were faced with certain doom at D-S. We had lost earlier 8-0 in a game which we were too embarrassed to return from. However, thanks to two-second half goals from Brian Harrington and Matt Larkin, we did the impossible, finished a ten goal turnaround and walked away with a 2-0 victory.

Steady improvement INSPIRED WIN OVER D-S

L to R: Mr. Gary Burke (Coach), Bill Scales (Capt.), Matt Larkin (Capt.), Mr. Chris Martin (Coach)

After a 0-4 start we turned things around against teams that had once laughed at us. After losing to Dover-Sherborn 8-0, we played an inspired second match against them and left the field teary-eyed with a 2-0 win. A few days prior to that, we dethroned the mighty Hopkinton Hillers in a 1-0 victory. Geo Hermiston scored a goal on a controversial cross shot. Nevertheless, it went in! The Wolverines also recorded a 1-1 tie against rival and former Coach Ross Irwin's Medfield squad. We steadily improved, not once letting the deficit of goals, whether it be in our favor or not, affect our play. In our final game against Millis, a 5-3 loss, two seniors scored goals, and all five played simply incredible soccer, leaving their team with something to remember.

Bequest to Next Year's Team: Since we got the new turf left to us last year, what more would we possibly need than more seating to house all of our loyal fans when they flock to the stadium to watch us play.

Spotlight on: Bill Scales - "As co-captain of the team, Bill was a leader for the team. He always worked hard and inspired the team to work hard. One could always count on him to be there, on and off the field. Bill was also one of the most dedicated on the team."

Nylton Andrade - "Nylton joined the team late as a first year player and rapidly became an asset for the team. He added speed to the forward line and was a major contributing factor to the team's offense." John Flaherty - "John was a solid player who could always be counted on to play holes in the defense. A hard worker, Flaherty was one of the strongest players coming off the bench. A very vocal player, John kept the team spirit alive even after tough losses."

Fun and joyful memories A WINNING COMBO

L to R: Lindsay Hatch, Jennifer Grady (Capt.), Colleen McDermott, Nora Curran (Capt.), Heather Liddell (Capt.), Jennifer Ryan (Capt.).

The Girls' Soccer Team began the 1994 season on the right foot. After sweating through a week of hot double sessions, the squad scrimmaged a couple of non-league foes and emerged victorious against neighbor Norwood for the first time in the past five years. The winning stretched into the start of the season as the Wolverine girls swept past Archbishop Williams in their first game of the season. The talented Girls' Soccer Team could not keep everything together as freak occurrences caused them to tie or lose some very close games. Despite the players' skills, the team could not manage to get the ball in the net and score goals which translate into wins. Although the record does not indicate a winning season, the fun and joyful memories of the 1994 Girls' Varsity Soccer Team definitely constitute a winning season in the minds of its members.

Creative Awards: The Greatest American Hero - C. White. Acorn Award - Michelle Ryan, Lisa Radden. "Good" Girl Award - Jill DiSabato, Mo Sullivan.

On the run LEAGUE WINNERS

L to R: Jonathan Small (Capt.), Mr. Richard Hargreaves (Coach), Brendan Cashman (Capt.)

We won the league at 7-0 for the first time since 1984. Furthermore, we finished fourth in the State Class Meet and finished twelfth in the State Small School Meet. John Dudley never lost to a Tri-Valley League opponent and he went on to finish fourth in the class meet. Mike Earls improved at a steady rate and peaked at the end of the season. He was third by a tenth of a second at the league meet and in the state sophomore meet he finished fifth. Rookie runner Brian Shaw finished nineteenth in the state freshman meet.

Bequest to Next Year's Team: The captains' stalls, directions for Dudley, a work ethic for Mike and Dan, an open mind for Stoney, a bicycle drive-through for Shaw.

A great season

QUALIFY FOR STATE TOURNEY

The 1994 WHS Volleyball Team had a great season. After a disappointing '93 season of only three wins, the Wolverine girls shocked the Tri-Valley League with a record of nine wins and nine losses, qualifying them for the State Tourney. The "Cinderella" team (as quoted by the Boston Globe), swept through the first competition with a 3-0 win against Ayer. They then proceeded to embarrass top-seeded St. Clements and race on into the semifinals. The tragedy came when Tri-Valley League foe, Medfield, knocked us out with a 3-0 win, thus ending the Wolverine season of 1994.

M EMORIES

Donna Cassano: "Donna was an excellent setter. She was very aggressive on the court. She had a powerful serve that helped lead us to the tournament. She was definitely a key player to our team. Donna got people up when they were down. She was a great player and a good friend. Without her on the team, we would have never made it as far as we did." - Margo

Margo Imbornone: "Margo was the back bone of our team. Without her in the line-up, things fell apart.

Her powerful hitting and excellent serving made opponents fear her presence on the court. As a captain she was a superb leader and kept everything together." - Carrie

Carrie Beaumont: "Carrie was a true leader. Without her getting the team up to play, we wouldn't have played as well as we did. She was the key to our team. As a setter and hitter, she gave us the power to get to the tourney. Along with her being a good friend, she was a great teammate, and as a captain she shaped the team into a winning one." - Donna

Win 43 consecutive meets OUTSTANDING RECORD

The Westwood High School Girls' Swim Team continued its streak winning forty-three consecutive meets over the past four years. We lost only one meet to Bishop Feehan by two points. The team went on to finish second at conferences and third at South Sectionals. Westwood finished up a very successful season by placing sixth in the state.

Spotlight on:

Chrissy Riley - Chrissy had an outstanding career helping her teams to a 43-1 record, 2 South Sectional Championships and 3 Southern Conference League Titles. She was a team co-captain, 3 time South Sectional Champion, 4 time Conference and Transcript All-Star and an All-Scholastic. She had 75 first place finishes and was the team MVP.

-Maryellen Riley

Julie Connors - Julie was the Un-Sung Hero of this great team. She was a four year contributor and a Sectional and State Qualifier. An outstanding team attitude and a multi-talented swimmer, Julie was a co-captain who showed great leadership and spirit all 4 years.

-Maryellen Riley

Karen Lepri - Karen was selected as this year's Sportsmanship recipient. She was always a hard working swimmer who encouraged others throughout the season. Karen was a very smart and goal-orientated swimmer who was a coach's "dream."

Best record in twenty-five years

MAKE IT TO STATE TOURNEY

This year's team had the best record in twenty-five years. We went 17-5 and made it to the second round of the State Tournament, where we were beaten by a tough Dedham team. Captains Reed McLaughlin and Steve Prinn were dominant in scoring, and Ron Santiago was a force on the boards. Senior Chip Grueter was a menace to the other team, using five fouls almost every game and Kenley "Chief" Cherenfant was the leader in shots blocked. He was a kid who never missed a practice and always played his best when given the shot. Next year's team has a lot to live up to with five seniors leaving. Good luck!

Creative Awards: Most Likely to Be Seen Everyday at Practice: Luke Johnson. Most Likely to Swear at the Ref: George Ganson. Most Likely to Win Coach of the Year: Russ Downes. Best Dressed at Practice: Chip Grueter. Most Likely to Be Nick-named "Air" Tim Pearsons.

Bequest to Next Year's Team: A State Championship and to keep beating D-S. Also the captains would like to say to the freshmen: "You've got four more years!"

A tough one! Chip's dunks in practice; OH my wrist!! Chip's hacks, war wounds... Luke, Giff? Bellingham Locker Room!

Most Memorable Meet: The Bellingham locker room was full of joy and happiness. Coach Levangie came in and told us how good we played in the first half. He explained to us if we lose it, it wouldn't be because we didn't give it our best. He took a pause and then told us that we were the best team he had ever coached. Coach Levangie is one who never loses his temper or raises his voice at any of his players. He is a very calm individual.

Young but talented team MAKE IT TO STATE TOURNEY

We had a very young but talented team - three returning seniors and juniors. The rest of the team was all new, yet were vital parts of the team. We started off great rolling over Dover-Sherborn. Then came the big game against Medway. Would we lose to them again for the sixth time? NO! We killed them by twenty-one points. The next time we beat them by only three points. We made it to the state tournament easily with the third seed. We beat the first team with no problem. The second game was a little tougher, but we pulled through. Then came the big one against Archbishop Williams. We lost to a great team.

Eastern Mass. quarterfinalist RECORDS INTO THE BOOKS

The Boys' Hockey Team followed up its Eastern Massachusetts championship season with a 16-6-1 record. Although the Wolverines did not repeat as Tri-Valley League champions, Assistant Captain Tom Feeley, Greg Staiti, Captain Mike Cullinane and Captain Dave Paster were named Tri-Valley League All-Stars. The squad reached the Eastern Massachusetts quarter-finals before being ousted by East Boston.

The team had some of its finest moments in a thrilling 2-1 victory over Medfield early in the season, and in a 3-2 "Championship of the Rink" win against non-league rival Canton. A 2-2 tie against Division I power North Quincy helped to propel the Wolverines into the Boston Globe's Top Twenty list. For the second year, the team traveled to Lake Placid during February vacation, where the athletes took in the sights and edged Canton, New York, the defending New York state champion, in an exhibition game.

First ever STATE CHAMPIONS

Despite a shaky start against a strong Connecticut squad, the Wolverine girls picked up the pieces and started putting them together as they dominated their Massachusetts foes. The Girls' Ice Hockey Team, which included the six remaining founding team players, as well as a plethora of underclassmen, exhibited a keen sense of balance showcasing offensive and defensive talents. As the season drew to a close, Westwood qualified for the first "state" tournament held in Belmont. Westwood faced its arch rival, Belmont, in a close championship game. The mighty Westwood girls held out for a 2-1 victory over Belmont and gained the first state title in girls' public high school ice hockey.

As we pulled off the highway ramp and started down 109 into Westwood center, we were escorted by fire trucks and the cars of all our fans. We all had our heads out the windows screaming and cheering until we arrived at the high school. All of our parents, who were our biggest fans, and the rest of our faithful followers, drove in a parade behind the bus beeping and cheering also. The entire victory entourage was quite a sight and an event we'll never forget.

GIRLS' LACROSSE FARES VERY WELL

Girls' Lacrosse started its first season in the history of Westwood High School in April of 1995. The Wolverine girls quickly learned the fundamentals of the game and readily practiced their skills. After a couple of weeks of training, the team was ready to face its first opponents. The Lacrosse Team fared very well in the first match, accepting a close loss 5-3 to a more experienced Weston team. The girls continued to improve throughout the season narrowly losing to their opponents. Yet, nevertheless, the Girls' Lacrosse Team showed true Westwood spirit in their last game and established another winning tradition in Westwood with a victory over neighbor Walpole.

Memories: Karen's dirty lacrosse song... run-ins with the soft ball team... the goalie situation...

BOYS LACROSSE BETTER THAN ANTICIPATED

After dropping the first two games to Norwell and Roxbury Latin, the Boys' Lacrosse Team rattled off four straight wins over Xaverian (twice), Swampscott, and Walpole. Although we dropped the last two games, our 4-4 finish was much better than anyone had anticipated, and we actually showed signs of skill over the course of the season.

Two top batting averages STRONG OFFENSIVE

The season started off looking strong, with our team winning our first three games. However in the middle of the season, our club suffered several setbacks brought about by unforeseen circumstances. It seemed as though we had control of every game except for one inning where we would have error after error. But not all was bad; we received strong pitching performances by Chip Grueter and Mike Chace. Jake McDonnell and Cal Collins pitched as well. Offensively we were strong and had the top two leaders in batting average, Matt Gill and Tom Feeley. On the base paths, Chip was always a terror to opposing catchers.

M MEMORABLE

Going to the state tourney for the first time in 12 years. Beating Hopkinton and Medfield by one run each. Having the best record in ten years. Beating Medfield for the first time in ten years. Winning the all-star game. Practicing in sports bras, our wonderful friends next door.

Most Memorable Meet: Two of our most memorable games this season were our Medfield and Hopkinton games. In our Medfield game we were down by three in the bottom of the seventh and with four hits we came back and won the game by one. This was the game that qualified us for the state tourney. In our Hopkinton game, we were tied up most of the game which brought us into extra innings. In the bottom of the eighth, a home run won us the game.

Rusty and out of practice CLOSE MATCHES

The season began on a fairly poor note because we did not have a coach at first and the prospect for landing one quickly seemed uncertain. After several weeks, however, an excellent coach was found and we began our practices only a week or two prior to our first match. Thus, we were rusty and out of practice for our first several matches and it showed on the tennis courts. The matches this year were all relatively close, usually being lost at the very end by a close three set victory for the other team. Our second and third singles players tended to win consistently, while first singles and doubles players had a hard time. The team was at a disadvantage from the start, however, as we began our season late and were missing many strong players from last year's team. All in all, it was a rather disappointing year, not so much because we finished 3-9, but more because we had the potential to do so much better.

Bequest to Next Year's Team: Showing up at practice, and a winning season.

M EMORIES

The most memorable event for me was the meet at Medfield where our team, as was typical, led the meet at 2-2 with one match to finish in the third set. I was playing Matt Keegan, the league Co-MVP, and led 2-0 in the third set with both teams eagerly anticipating who would win. Unfortunately my lead dwindled. I was serving to hold one set when I was down 4-5 and I lost one game, one match, and one meet. It was an extremely disappointing loss, but certainly one of the most memorable meets of the year.

Q Team exceeds expectations QUALIFIES FOR STATE TOURNEY

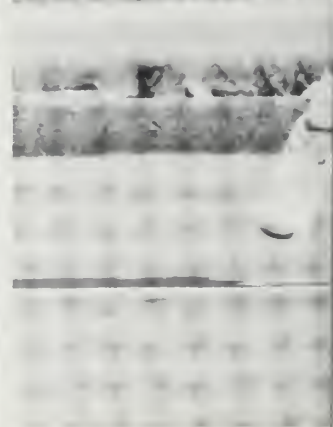

Our goal at the beginning of the season was to be over .500 and make the state tournament. We were well on our way to achieving this goal with our decisive 5-0 victories over Ashland and Hopkinton. Although we were overpowered by the more experienced teams of Dover, Holliston and Millis, there were some great individual performances. Ali Lynch beat Dover's first singles player in two matches and Emi Yamauchi fought a tough battle against Millis' third singles player. In our 2-3 loss to Medfield, Suzy Lynch did a great job at second singles. Although we suffered these losses, we kept our goal in mind and steadily improved our skills. Anna Piazza and Julie Praino did well joining at first doubles. Our concentration paid off and we came back to avenge our losses to Holliston and Medfield. Joanna Michelson and Marisa Suescan played an unbelievable match against Medfield. After a hard fought season, with a record of 9-7, we achieved our goal and made the state tournament!

Bequest to next year's team: To next year's team the captain bequeathes permanent umpires to call our lines. No more worries about whether a ball is in or out.

With Joyce and Mrs. Cutter as linesmen, the match went on. Finally, after a long, suspenseful afternoon (with hot dogs), we won the match 3-2 and put a lid on Medfield.

Win against Hopkinton SEASON TO REMEMBER

We finished with a record of 6-12 in a year that had its ups and downs. It was a season we will all remember. We suffered some setbacks this year, but we were able to rebound in certain matches. # RACING THROUGH TVL

Two years ago we were 4-5; this year we were 6-3; next year... We had a great season beginning with the Tri-Valley League relays and ending with the New England Meet! A talented group of freshmen really added to our team. We came close to beating Holliston and Medfield; we had four league champions; we made ourselves known at the class meet; and most of all we had a lot of fun!

SENIOR ACTIVITIES

POWDER PUFF

On October 15, the senior girls continued the tradition of annihilating the boys in the annual "Powder Puff" football game. The offensive forces of Steve's Sexy Slammers and Bill's Cheap Thrills earned twenty points, while Shawn and Ron's Turn-Me-Ons and Greg's Gorgeous Gals provided the defensive support needed to keep the boys' score at fourteen points. The boys' team, coached by Reed, boasted Dave Lynch and Luke as its stars, but Dave Paster was best at running with his shoelaces tied together. Heather, Lindsay, and Carrie all scored touchdowns, and the ball has still not landed from when Jenn Grady kicked it.

SENIOR BANQUET

All who attended the Class Banquet agreed that the event was both memorable and fun. Activities included a catered dinner, the reading of the class histories and presentation of Superlatives, and the Novel Quest - a game in which Grady's suitcase... er.. pocket-book proved to be especially useful. Finally, a slide show with Wes as commentator left us either laughing hysterically (Margo!) or squirming in our seats (Luke!). In all, the evening was a huge success, thanks to Mrs. Rosengarten and the class officers.

JUNIOR - SENIOR PROM

The Sheraton Tara Hotel was the site of this year's Junior-Senior Prom. Prom-goers arriving in limousines, old-fashioned cars, and "party buses" were greeted at the door by Mr. Flaherty and Mr. Flahive. Throughout the night, juniors and seniors, along with some underclassmen and guests, had a chance to sample the buffet, mingle with friends and teachers, and request their favorite songs. This year's prom theme was "We've got Tonight" - a fitting theme for one of the last nights the members of the Class of '95 would be spending together.

On Class Day, students, teachers, and guests gathered together to enjoy a pasta luncheon, followed by an awards assembly in which many members of the Class of '95 were honored for their efforts and achievements. Seniors marched into the gym wearing their graduation gowns, and were welcomed by class president Victor Servello, vice-president Wes Davis, and principal Mr. Flaherty. The list of awards was long and distinguished, attesting to the strengths and abilities of our class both in and outside of the classroom. Highlights of the day included the reading of the Senior Class history by Wes, hearing the chorale sing "The Kid Inside," and watching the surprised and touched face of Mr. Milan upon hearing the yearbook dedication.

"BEACHES"

Classes had ended (officially), finals (the few we took) were over, and only five days remained until graduation. And yet, on June 1 nearly all members of the senior class came to school at 8:00AM (well, 9:30) ... for one of the best activities of the year - the senior class beach trip. It was hot and sunny - ideal beach weather - as we boarded two yellow school buses for our last "field trip" ever - to Crane's Beach in Ipswich. During the day we ate, swam (in reportedly 50 degree water), basked in the sun, and had an overall excellent time.

The time was two o'clock. The day was hot and humid and a large crowd had gathered in the bleachers of the track to see the Class of '95 march (in step, thanks to Mrs. Perry and Junior Class Pres. Lindsay Rose) to the beat of "Pomp and Circumstance." Marching ahead of the white and green clad graduates-to-be were many faculty members robed in the colors of their own alma maters. Sincere, amusing, and inspiring speeches were given by Class President Victor Servello, Vice-President Wes Davis, and Valedictorian Karen Lepri. Awards and scholarships were presented, as seniors threw beach balls and howled for their honored friends. After the two hour ceremony ended with the presentation of diplomas, graduates hugged each other and realized that they were leaving behind four years of unforgettable experiences.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

Victor Servello

...Today, the class president is here to address you on the merits and successful doings of the Class of '95. The Class of '95 experienced great success in the classroom. This fall we will be sending many students to highly distinguished schools all across the country. On the playing field, our efforts also took us down a successful road. Many teams captured league, sectional, and even state titles throughout our four years. We were also graced with many talented artists in our class, who earned great status in the arts by competing in the Boston Globe Scholastic art competitions. A new breed of actors and actresses also made a name for themselves by showcasing their talents in our school plays and musicals.

All these crowning achievements in the classroom, on the playing field, and on the drawing board helped Westwood retain its reputation as a competitive and successful town.

With all the recognition devoted to students earning impressive awards in academics, sports and the arts, we sometimes pass up a sort of unmeasured success that students and members of the community achieve each and every day. So today there is a message. That message is to the students and anyone else here today that never got a chance to share success in the classroom, on the playing field, or in the arts. Today we should take a moment to recognize these people. These are the people who choose to volunteer time to help make our world become a better place. Our doings in organizations like Key Club and CYO prove that there are people in our class who are taking the time to look around and help the less fortunate. These are the people who take pride and who find happiness whether it comes from their family, friendships, or any other relationships. These ARE the people whose talents and merits aren't recognized in awards, but in happiness and confidence within themselves. These are the people who keep towns like ours afloat. What these people are doing for our community goes further than any football thrown or straight A average. Today we acknowledge and congratulate the unsung heroes of our school and of our community. We hope that they continue to serve the community even when their doings go unnoticed due to "more important things." For someday they will be the ones whosing the sweetest tune of all.

But, ladies and gentlemen, this is only the beginning in our quest to make this world a fun and interesting place to live in. In the great words of Ian MaCkaye "You can't be what you were. So you better start being what you are." Change is inevitable. We can't be high school heroes forever. Although our memories at WHS will always have a place in our minds, as the cliché goes, we have to "get on with our lives." There are people in the world that are waiting for us to go out and do something with the world. There are people who need us more than ever. We can help all these people by working together - not just for awards and social clout and status but for the common good of all people everywhere. We need to maintain success we have already achieved by joining together so that our efforts have more of an impact. For it is our generation that must and will prove the skeptics wrong who say our generation is burnt out and heading in the wrong direction. If we can make a small positive difference in people's lives as we begin to take charge of our surroundings, then I'll be the first one to tell the skeptics/media, "We told you so"...

VALEDICTORIAN'S MESSAGE

Karen Lepri

We, the Class of 1995, are here today to say good-bye to our community - to the high school, to the WWPD, to Poppy seeds, to Dover Peaks (on to bigger and better things, right?). So - we are saying good-bye to our community - but what exactly does saying good-bye mean?

Understanding this idea begins by realizing that every time we go away, we seldom leave without luggage. As most of us go off to new places this fall, we'll be taking a lot of baggage with us but along with the new towels, the travel iron, and the mini refrigerator, there is much more to our baggage than surface items - packed in our baggage are our roots. These roots are the values that reflect our community of Westwood. A belief in the importance of education finds itself tucked neatly between two pairs of pants. Also, a hard work ethic and a strong sense of family have their permanent compartments. They are the things we've learned over the years whether it has been at Little League games, at school plays, in the classroom, or at the dinner table. These values will remain with us, influencing the decisions we make as we leave home...

In an attempt to establish ourselves as individuals, we will do many things to emphasize our separation from family and home. Some here will head off to large metropolises such as New York City. Joining up with millions of people and losing themselves in millions of streets, they will leave secure Westwood. One girl may dye her hair blue. Bye Westwood... All of us are ready to seek independence. Walt Whitman celebrated American independence in his poetry. He proclaimed the varied carols of individuals who "each sing what belongs to him or her and to no one else." Our town of Westwood and our individualism belong to us, but more importantly, so does the spacious world in which we will seek independence belong to us. In return for these valued belongings, we have the responsibility of sustaining this American tradition of independence. Let us turn once again to Whitman as he sang,

O to realize space!

The plentiousness of all, that there be no bounds,
To emerge and be of the sky, of sun and moon and flying clouds,
As one with them.

The excitement of this space is overwhelming. Excitement calls us to explore in every direction. The choice of which direction to follow is ours.

Whichever path through space to independence we choose, our community will stay a part of the baggage we leave with. No matter how much we desire independence, no matter how determined we are to say good-bye, the community which has taught, led, and protected us for so many years Westwood - will never disappear from our minds.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT-CLASS OF 1995

We the members of the Class of 1995 of Westwood High School, Westwood, Massachusetts, county of Norfolk, USA, Planet Earth, hereby declare this will and testament, thus voiding any previous wills and codicils.

FIRST

We leave to the Class of 1996 all of those invigorating college processes; i.e., applications, interviews, deposits, rejections, as well as a year of "sanity" and "reckless living."

SECOND

We leave to the Class of 1997 the Junior/Senior Prom, as well as the privilege of taking on a new identity and coming that much closer to being one of us...an UPPERCLASSMAN.

THIRD

We leave to the Class of 1998 a place at Westwood High School where they belong, their own sophomoric behavior, and the ability not to get caught.

FOURTH

We leave to the Class of 1999 a handbook detailing proper behavior when around upperclassmen, the ability to calm down, and specific instructions for getting off to a great start at WHS.

I, Shiva Aliabadi, leave to my friends our precious moments at the lunch tables.

I, Eve Anderson, leave to my sister Priscilla all her clothes I didn't take with me to college and my place in line at the Clinique counter.

I, Amber Antworth, leave to Dolly all of my free blocks and all of my unwedged clay.

I, Diana Aprea, leave to Laura Aprea a battle of Nice and Easy hair dye to bring her hair back to a normal color.

I, Mariana Arakaki, leave to everyone my footprint for having had the opportunity of walking with you here at WHS.

I, Chris Barry, leave to Thomas J. Brown a copy of Michael Shaara's The Killer Angels.

I, Paul Baryski, leave to Mike Caruso my brand new blue shirt.

I, Carrie Beaumont, leave to Meg Molloy the ability to use good diction while fighting on the ice.

I, Jen Bemis, leave to Mona a dead man; Greg a smack in the face and some extra brain cells; Jen a ouji board and Docs; Jennie a marble; Clay a mannequin; and Bill my heart.

I, Sophie Benjamin, leave to Jessica Fountaine my whole wardrobe.

I, Brendan Cashman, leave to my brother Kevin a reputation he will never be able to live up to.

I, Dana Cassano, leave to Bathroom Buds my stall and my friends my school spirit and happiness.

I, Donna Cassano, leave to the WHS volleyball team the ability to sit proud on the bench as a Senior, and put up with Mr. West's "quirks."

I, Kenley Cherenfant, leave to the football crew and METCO boys-We finally played in the Super Bowl. After all those years practicing together. We'll always be like a family.

I, Jessica Chiricotti, leave to Allison Dick all the luck with the rest of high school, and to Jane N. many more memories with K. Hall.

I, George Clapsis, leave Mrs. Bishop, my brother Tony, and Cory Menice as my legacies.

I, Randy Clark, leave to Emily Clark the red beauty.

I, Tim Close, leave to Justin Lenzo the combination to the percussion locker: 25, 1, 49.

I, Shawn Connelly, leave to my sister Katie the number 22. It's been lucky so far.

I, Stephanie Connelly, leave to my brother Edward my infinite wisdom in hope that his trip through high school will be as great as mine.

I, Julie Connors, leave to the girls' swim team a new winning streak.

I, Suzanne Cosgrove, leave to my sister Melissa everything that I own, that wasn't taken to college, since she takes all my stuff anyway.

I, Matt Cox, leave to Jimmy Patterson the right to commence all freshman harassment games, and to carryout the long-lived legacy of "swirlee's."

I, Michael Cullinane, leave to Joe Mancuso an iron to keep his SLEEVES straight!

I, Nora Curran, leave to Farah the continuation of the Saga and to Witta Rogers the intelligence to NOT get caught.

I, Wes Davis, leave to Mike Otto a pair of scissors, and to Kelly Ristaino, Mike.

I, Maureen Derle, leave to Andrea Campell my cladaigh ring, my hamster, and all my personal belongings, except Randy Rider.

I, Nicole Deshais, leave to Jessica Ziemian and Heather Daly the responsibility to fill my shoes by being loud and obnoxious.

I, Linda Dilalla, leave to my brothers Michael and Robert Dilalla all my detentions I never got to make up (or skipped).

I, Mona Dioga, leave to my sister Wel my art material that once belonged to our father. "I love you Wel."

I, Anthony Eadie, leave to the school the impression that a great person has entered a new level.

I, Mike Federico, leave to Chris Murphy, Tom Feeley, Bill Federico, and Greg Staiti "The Doorknob," and driving lessons.

I, John Flaherty, leave to Todd Miner and Pete Turk THE STAITI, and to the Big Three I leave my love.

I, Latifa Gordon, leave to Sheryll Goodloe and James Ash my deepest gratitude for helping me out this year during rough times. I will be eternally grateful to you both.

I, Grady, leave to Physics class, esp. "RADS" and "BABS" injuns and oscillating bridges- you can decide whether to cross.

I, Giff, leave to John Buckley my gum locker and all the Super Bowl memories.

I, Greg Grokulsky, leave to The Junior Class the sound of my laughter, as they attend school until 3 o'clock.

I, Chip Grueter, leave to Lindsay Rose, Michelle Ryan, Lisa Radden, and Kevin Cashman an abundance of Senior Parties at The Place.

I, Vinnie Guerini, leave to one Brian Sheehy (aka) BJ the Monsterring tools and the power to strike fear into all whom you despise.

I, John Paul Guindon, leave to the rest of the school and Cakesboy a bag full of joy and a bowl of laughs.

I, Eric Gunderson, leave to Joe Mancuso my blue line.

I, Lindsay Hatch, leave to C.C. White the courage and will do whatever you please.

I, Erica Hesch, leave to Karen Lepri all my shoes.

I, Kirsten Hillberg, leave to Scott Liddell $250.00 to replace Cherby's Projector. (Half the cost according to Bigfoot)

I, Kent Hirshberg, leave nothing to nobody, for I will outlive you all. Hah!

I, Margo Imbornone, leave to Kate Scales the ability to carry on my gross volleyball tradition and the never ending ire!!

I, Luke Johnson, leave to Chris O'Brien the fire knuckle huffle and his Elvis pin.

I, Sean Kelly, leave to Colin Volgelgesang all the Irwinisms that he can handle and the notion that "Medfield are gunnin' or ya."

I, Nick Larkin, leave to Geoff Morrison a trombone repair kit; to Matt Lucas and Brian Sheehy my bitterness; and to Brian Morrison a toilet bowl.

I, Karen Lepri, leave to Erica Hesch puddles to jump in, and to MacSteph I leave clamshells (you can fill in the rest).

I, Heather Liddell, leave to Mish and Smelly post-game rituals; to Soph. Soccer Gang a few more laughs; and to Scotty some struggle.

I, Julie MacQueen, leave to Andrea C. my wardrobe collection, my car, and all my stuffed animals; and to Mike my Fuzzy Budweiser Poster.

I, Maria Maione, leave to the field hockey team Bermuda bags, thong bikinis, jeans and heels, Barbie dolls, coolots and Betsy.

I, Kerry Malloy, leave to WHS It spreads over the entire planet. It bores clear through it with its roots... "Children," I say plainly, "watch out for the baobabs!"

I, James Paul Mara, leave to Alan Crede my style, wit, charm, flavor, knowledge, and my Ph.D. in funkology.

I, Lisa Martin, leave to Nicole the legend of the gold-digga.

I, Mark W. Masterson, leave to Steve Cario The Big Secret. To be left to a worthy friend one grade below you.

I, Greg Mattera, leave to Zak, Melvin, Joe V., and Mullen the strength to come on or off the field, as well as the ability to rub it out daily and like it!

I, Brian McCampbell, leave to the TEC Classroom many more fun and exciting activities.

I, Colleen McDermott, leave to the WHS faculty and staff peace and quiet without a McDermott for the first time in 12 years. Enjoy it because there's only 7 years until the last one.

I, David McLaughlin, leave to Benjamin Reich locker 689 (1, 2, 3, 7, 0) with the hopes that one day I will return to find the Mountain Dew Wing.

I, Nancy McLaughlin, leave to Roe DeCenzo and Meg Molloy a change of clean clothes for muddy practices.

I, Reed McLaughlin, leave to Scott Liddell my phone # at college, so he can call and tell me his stories about SAT. NIGHT.

I, Ryan Menice, leave to Mike Caruso all the responsibilities of maintaining a trouble-free library in WHS!

I, Erin Mitchell, leave to Kamilah Jones the ability to speak Spanish as good as I do.

I, Elizabeth Molloy, leave to the field hockey team a winning season complete with Saturday morning practices (with doughnuts afterward), Bermuda Bags, enthusiastic freshmen, and more T.P. for Indian Hill Road.

I, Sarah Molloy, leave to my sister Meg the red Honda, gas money, and two more years of hockey fights; and to Michelle

Ryan a lifetime supply of Bertucci's rolls.

I, Natalie Mullen, leave to Dan Ricciato all my wedged clay.

I, Kristine O'Brien, leave to Kerry a new seatbelt that will unbuckle.

I, Rory O'Dea, leave to the Class of 96, "the T.F.."

I, Kimberly A. O'Donnell, leave to Steve McGovern my love; The Group more cool conversations; AC colored pens and Joey; my teachers my thanks.

I, Joseph Paparazzo, leave to Anthony Mancuso my keys to the luxurious Volvo and also my J.D. for tree shows at local 186.

I, Dave Paster, leave to Mike Hurley the real M9 and 2 years of rebuilding.

I, Beth Peavey, leave to Shiva Aliabadi Rocky Horror and our favorite Tim Curry.

I, Danielle Petrucci, leave to Roe DeCenzo my field hockey jacket for those days it gets a bit nippy.

I, Steve Prinn, leave to Mike Chace the survival skills needed to survive one more year.

I, Steve Reissfelder, leave to all unibrow donning students the strength to wear the prestigious unibrow with pride and dignity.

I, Amy Riley, leave to Patty the joys of being the oldest; to Jenna my room; to the big five the Student Council; and to Lindsay a real limo for the prom.

I, Daniel Riley, leave to Chris O'Brien title as coolest and most hilarious person in the town ... We'll see ya.

I, Jen Ryan, leave to Michelle Ryan the "booberry" and to the girls' soccer team a Hanookle.

I, Mary Sacco, leave to my classmates the best of luck in all you do.

I, Bill Scales, leave to Christopher William O'Brien vanilla fudge (2 lbs.), a power name, and the legend of the straight edge. Enjoy.

I, Victor Servello, leave to Todd Miner, Chris O'Brien, Tristan Gutner, and Ben Reich five minutes in the love cooler.

I, Jonathan Small, leave to Stephanie Connelly my fake I.D., which I can't use.

I, Michelle Smiley, leave to Boo-Boo Kitty my cold cuts, cheese, and hats to keep him warm and fat.

I, Barbara St. Georges, leave to Claudette and Webert Etienne all my personal belongings. All my life you have provided for me. This is my way of saying, "Thanks."

I, Greg Staiti, leave to T.F., C.M., M.F., B.F. a copy of "More Than Friends" for those late nights by the lake.

I, Molly Sweeney, leave to Mary and Laura the ability to deal with Danny and Johnn next year.

I, John Tenofsky, leave to Joe Mancuso a big fatty.

I, Michael Tenofsky, leave to Joe Vinci a pack of cigars.

I, Erin Toner, leave to Brian my sick days, to Andrea I leave my fingerpaints, to Brian, Joe, and everyone else I leave you blackmail money.

I, Bill Van Gelder, leave to Zak House my eternal love, hugs & kisses.

I, Daniel Ware, leave to the members of the tech crew a pack of playing cards and to the band my work ethic and respect for Mr. G.

I, Emi Yamauchi, leave to my friends at WHS my thanks for all the kindness and friendship they showed me.

Congratulations, Molly!

To one of the sweetest and most precious people in my life I wish you all the best that the world has to offer.

Always remember these words you once wrote-“Understand that happiness is not based on possessions, power or prestige, but on relationships with people you love and respect.”

All my love,

Mom

Congratulations, Kirsten and Nicole!
 From your 1st first day together,
 to the last first day together,
 we have enjoyed watching your friendship grow.

We wish you both joy and success in the future.

And remember, best friends are forever.

David A. McLaughlin,

Farewell thou child of my right hand & joy ling'ring year at last has flown pomp & pleasure, pride & plenty
David, you're on your own

Loosened from you mother's tether wild as wind, and light as a feather for a boy's will is the wind's will feel free to take your fill

Go, beloved son! mount where science guides go, measure earth, weigh air and state the tides instruct the planets in what orbs to run correct old time and regulate the Sun

But while you're off chasing rainbows & such Remember who brought you up
For we are very proud of you and above all else, we wish you the best of luck

The Student Center.

Going to McDonald's® is almost as much a part of school as going to class. You've made us the place to meet, to talk, to have a good time, to celebrate your victories and help forget defeats.

You've made McDonald's more than just another place to eat. And that's why, at McDonald's, we say...

IT'S A GOOD TIME
FOR THE GREAT TASTE
